FLORAL PARADE JUDGES NAMED

Director Petrie of the 1909 Floral Parade Committee has completed his list of judges for the big event next Monday. All of these judges with the exception of those for the parade riders' section, are "maihinis," who are spending the winter in the islands. The judges will make their decisions as soon as possible after the parade reaches Kapiolani Park, following which Mrs. Walter P. Frear, wife of the Governor, will present the trophies to the winners. The list of judges follows:

Automobiles—Mr. J. S. Rrear, Vancouver; Mrs. J. B. Bryan, Rochester, N. Y.; and Mrs. J. W. Smith, Fargo, N. D.

Carriages—Mr. J. B. Bryan, Rochester, N. Y.; Mrs. J. S. Rrear, Vancouver; and Mrs. C. E. Ferguson, New York City.

Floralists—Mr. J. W. Smith, Fargo, N. D.; Mrs. R. L. Morse, Seattle; and Mrs. George W. Kinney, Chicago.

Bicycles, Fire Department, Etc.—Mr. R. L. Morse, Seattle; Mrs. H. St. Goar, San Francisco; and Miss Georgina Joiner, Chicago.

Pa-u Riders—Mrs. J. M. Dowsett, Mrs. E. P. Low, and Mr. Harry von Helt.

Mrs. Kinney and Miss Joiner are at the present time visiting the Volcano, but will return tomorrow morning. Director Petrie got in touch with them and secured their consent by wireless.

CANADIAN TOURISTS NOTED COMING NEXT YEAR KOREA PASSENGER

Steamship Company Will Help Bring Visitors Here

Secretary H. P. Wood of the Promotion Committee is in receipt of a letter from C. E. E. Usher, assistant traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific railroad, which speaks well for the tourist prospects for next year. The letter follows:

"I have your favor of the 15th inst., and am obliged to you for copy of the Hawaiian Fish Book.

"In regard to the question of business via the Canadian-Australian line, I discussed this matter with Mr. J. C. Irons of the C. A. line rather more than a month ago, and I understand that he is looking into it, and expects to be able to take action that will lead to considerable business for next season, it being too late to do anything for the present winter.

"Yours very truly,
C. E. E. USHER,
"Asst. Passenger Traffic Manager."

STREET CARNIVAL PLANS COMPLETED

The committee on the street carnival, to be held on Monday evening on the downtown streets, has preparations about completed for the event. Vehicle traffic on the square bounded by King, Hotel, Bishop, and Fort streets will be prohibited during the evening, except as to street cars and automobiles of the two auto livery stands within the prescribed limits.

Many of the merchants are preparing to decorate their places of business, and a big and jolly time is assured. Dancing later in the evening at the Alexander Young hotel, will probably attract many.

LEGISLATORS MAKE SURE OF THEIR PAY

House Passes Its First Bill, Making Salary Appropriation

REPRESENTATIVES HURRY THROUGH MORNING'S WORK

Kinney Has Freak Measure Prohibiting Open Sale of Fish and Meat in Territorial Markets

HOUSE

Third Day—Morning Session
The House has passed its first bill. Although this is only the third day of the session, this measure has been introduced, rushed through first and second reading, and finally passed on third reading. And there was no debate or discussion. No opposition whatever was made to the measure. The reason for this unusual occurrence is that the bill provides money to pay the industrious legislators for their strenuous work.

The morning session was a short one, all the work in sight being finished at 10:35, when an adjournment was taken because there seemed to be nothing else to do. The morning was uneventful and the proceedings tame. The first real, genuine freak measure of the new session was introduced and slipped through without difficulty—a resolution to prohibit the sale of meat and fish openly in the Territorial markets.

At the beginning of the morning session, after the reading of the record, the Speaker took up the Governor's message and referred it, according to topics, to the committees having those respective subjects in charge.

A communication from H. P. Wood, of the Promotion Committee, extending to the members, their wives and friends, an invitation to attend the exhibition of R. K. Bonine's moving pictures next week was read. Kapiolani at once wanted to know whether admission would be free. Once before the legislators had been stung.

Under the head of new bills Kama proposed a measure to raise the pay of road laborers in the employ of the Territory to not less than $2 a day. This is the third bill of the same character introduced in the House, and Rice raised this point and moved that only one of them be granted. The bill was referred to the Printing Committee, the Speaker pointing out that the committee could use some discretion as to what bills should be printed.

School Age 8 Years
The expected measure to shut out of the public schools all children under the age of eight years was brought before the House this morning in the shape of a bill introduced by Moanali to amend the compulsory school law, Section 212 of the Revised Laws. The bill, however, is not radical as it simply does not render compulsory the attendance of children at school until

Japanese Resolve By Douthitt

With one accord the members of the House of Representatives went on record this afternoon as supporting the President in his pacific policy toward Japan, and deprecating the action of certain States of the Union in passing, or trying to pass, legislation antagonistic to the people of Nippon.

The resolution, endorsing the President's stand, was introduced by Representative E. A. Douthitt in this afternoon's session, and, though there was some little discussion regarding the exact wording of the document, there was not a single negative ballot when the matter was put to a vote.

In his resolution Mr. Douthitt referred to the amicable relations which have always existed between the citizens of Hawaii and the Japanese; he called attention to the important place which the Japanese occupy in the field of Hawaiian industry, and expressed the hope that the pleasant relations would never be strained.

Though the resolution passed without any opposition, it is believed by those in close touch with current events, that the Douthitt resolution will stir up a strong sentiment decidedly unfavorable to Hawaiian sugar interests among the laboring people of the Pacific Coast.

Want Cowboys

Editor Evening Bulletin:—Please allow me space in your valuable columns to explain the situation of many persons who desire to enter the parade as cowboys. A great many have gone to the expense of having their riding outfit oiled and polished and also have gone through a lot of trouble to get nice appearing horses, for the occasion, which is in itself an attraction and part of the parade. Having talked the matter over with several people concerning the article in the morning paper, which it stated the disapproval of the committee, cowboy section, I beg to say, these people have disapproved of their action—based their opinions—as uncalculated for, after advertising for same to enter their names. It is an injustice to those that have had intentions of taking part in the parade and much more to the public, who would appreciate seeing nice looking animals.

I hope the committee will reconsider their action in this matter and allow the cowboys to take part.

Thanking you in advance, I remain, Respectfully yours,
JOSE J. DIAS.

COELHO OBJECTS TO ORGANIC CHANGES

Introduces Resolution Condemning The Amendments

CALLS FOR FLOODS OF LAND CORRESPONDENCE

SENATE

Third Day—Morning Session
The first step toward opposing the proposed amendments to the Organic Act was taken in the Senate this morning when Senator Coelho from Maui introduced the following resolution, which, on motion, was tabled until a printed copy of the bill in question can be secured from the Printing Committee and laid before the members of the Senate:

"Whereas, there is now pending in and before the House of Representatives of the United States, in the expectation of its being enacted into law by the Federal Congress, a bill to amend in many important particulars the Organic Act—creating and providing a government for this Territory; and,

"Whereas, said bill as so prepared and introduced in said House of Representatives proposes many changes in our scheme of Territorial government that would be, if enacted into law, distasteful to the people of this Territory and subversive of the principle of popular government and inimical to the best interests of our Territory and subversive of the administration and disposition of the public lands thereof, in regard to which, in particular, the amendments proposed by said bill are designated to withdraw from the courts their present salutary jurisdiction over controversies pertaining to said public lands, and to vest an unusual and arbitrary authority respecting the same in the Governor of the Territory and the Commissioner of Public Lands, neither of whom are responsible to, or subject to control by the people, or the Legislature, of the Territory; and,

"Therefore be it Resolved, by the Senate of the Territory of Hawaii, the House of Representatives concurring, That the Clerk of the Senate and the Clerk of the House of Representatives of the Territory of Hawaii be, and they are hereby instructed, to immediately telegraph to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States, and to the

NAME OF SHIP WILL HENCEFORTH APPEAR

Henceforth all wireless messages, received from ships at sea, and cabled to the mainland, will bear a date line giving the source whence they came. For some time J. A. Balch, manager of the Wireless Telegraph Company, has been trying to induce the Commercial Pacific Cable Company to agree to placing such wording at the head of messages as shall show the receiver how and where they were received.

Under the old rule, a wireless received from the Lurline, and cabled to San Francisco, had only a Honolulu date line. Thus the person receiving the message had no way of knowing that it was sent from sea by wireless, unless the sender paid for the explanatory phrase.

This morning Balch received a letter from J. D. Gaines, superintendent of the Cable Company, announcing that henceforth all messages received by wireless and transmitted by cable, will read thus: "Radio, S. S., Honolulu."

The word "Radio" signifies that the message came by wireless, the name of the ships shows where the sender was, and Honolulu makes plain the port through which the message was sent. It is believed that this arrangement will greatly facilitate business.

The attention of the shippers is called to the fact that the Mauna Kea freight will be received tomorrow (Saturday) shortly after she arrives from Hilo. No freight will be received on Monday, Washington's Birthday.

A bill to establish the initiative and referendum in Hawaii was introduced by Representative Furiado this afternoon.

ELISIE SMITH DEAD VICTIM OF TYPHOID

Miss Elsie Smith, daughter of Henry Smith of the Judiciary Department, died this morning of typhoid fever. Miss Smith was up to the time of taking ill, stenographer in the Attorney General's office. She was very popular with everyone, and her sudden death will be quite a shock to those who know her.

DEMOCRAT LOWE GOT THE JOB

George K. Lowe, Democrat, and special interpreter for L. L. McCandless in his campaign against Delegate Kuhio, was this afternoon named as assistant secretary of the Senate. The Republican candidate, Harry van Gieson, was beaten by two votes. Lowe is a relative of Senator Brown of Hilo, who was his principal backer.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the Senate went into executive session to consider the Governor's recess appointments. The formality of adjournment was gone through with, after which President W. O. Smith immediately called the members together again sending all spectators and newspaper men out of the room.

A bill to establish the initiative and referendum in Hawaii was introduced by Representative Furiado this afternoon.
